TIM MOORE'S CHICAGO POLLOCK A FUN INITIATOR

Tim Moore's Chicago Pollock are furnishing the entertainment for the Booker Washington Theatre patrons this week. Tim, who is the center of attraction and he is in the spotlight throughout the show. The comic action is based on a hilarious and unique scheme to get a girl married against the wishes of her parents. Tim promotes this by entering the old folks with a narrative that really has for its aim the instructions to the audience to get behind the backs of the parents. The affair is pulled off behind their backs after considerable humorous excitement. This is the climax to a double routine that is filled with comic situations and keeps the audience continually laughing. Jones Stalling and Tim Moore are the parents; Jessie Cavin is "Mama"; their daughter, Browdie Campbell her sister; and Tim Moore, "Daddy," the hired man who directs the match.

There are a number of good song and dance specialties opening with "The Well Known 'Tall Talker'." The bill includes James "Cro" by, the tall talker; McPheeters and Lee, a pair of rubes; "Bygrams," a lady ventriloquist and a "Surprise Special" act that will open up a barrel of real fun.

WASHINGTON

THEATRES-CONTINUED

ances. It is said a powerful dramatic situation is created through bringing to a climax some man's attempt to discredit the Higher Power in a comparison with men's might.

The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse and "Ladies Must Live" At The Olympia

Reel Ingram's $1,000,000 production "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse" will have its first presentation on Market street, Saturday and Sunday, at the Olympia Theatre. The four horsemen is not a war play, except as the war serves as a background for a story involving dramatic passion. The director, Rex Ingram, has succeeded in concentrating the great struggle in a series of unforgettable pictures that flash out the quickness of life at white heat. He has seen the above the struggle of the awesome figures of the four horsemen, Conquest, War, Famine and Death, prophesied by St. John in the Book of the Apocalypse, charging into our very hearts. And through it all is the deeply human, deeply moving spectacle of intensely real people in their belated attempts to resist themselves to the demands of their time.

In this picture the war is realized on a gigantic scale, with a greatness of imagination that dwarfs all other similar attempts that the screen has seen. Rudolph Valentino and Alice Terry have the leading roles. Noble Johnson plays the part of "Conquest." Betty Compson will be seen in "Ladies Must Live" Thursday and Friday. The story deals with the troubles of certain women, who, since ladies must live, can't do anything but live as easily as possible. In the development of this theme, the genius of Mr. Charles Fox is most evident. The result being a picture of supreme interest and appeal to every eye. Robert Zelle and Alice Terry have the two leading male roles. The picture is based on a novel by Alice Duer Miller.

"Western Speed" and "The Duke of Chimney Butte" At The Casino

Charles Jones steps into "Western Speed," the new Fox production which will be seen at the Casino this Saturday in a fashion that would do credit to a well-developed burlesque. With the first flash Jones is being ordered off the premises at the home of a beautiful girl. To make her demands even more imperative other is pointing a rifle at the hero's head. He tells her unduly that he will leave, but that some day he's coming back to marry her. There are plenty of obstacles to be overcome and great serious work to be accomplished before the staunch cowboy eludes his romance with the beautiful girl in his arms. The story is that of an adventurous cowboy who takes it upon himself to rescue the girl he loves from the hands of a first love and her father from the clutches of an unscrupulous saloon man and his criminal cronies. There are a number of perilous episodes through which the hero is forced to pass, and Jones recites himself in true western manner.

"The Duke of Chimney Butte," in which Fred Stone appears in his favorite role of a cowboy, who puts to rout a band of cattle thieves, will be the feature attraction at the Casino this Sunday. "The Duke" blunders into a woman's ranch seeking work and is taken as her protector and aid against rustlers who have been harassing her for months. This opens the way to many thrilling adventures which are depicted on the screen with interest.

"The Duke of Chimney Butte" is captured by the cattle thieves but escapes and then he comes out all up and gets himself out of the way, after being himself in danger of death several times.

"Why Girls Leave Home," "My Boy" and "God's Country and the Law" at the Lincoln

Ann Q. Nilsson in "Why Girls Leave Home" will be the feature at the Lincoln this Sunday. Three-Act Drama. "My Boy" and "God's Country and the Law" will be seen in the Lincoln this Sunday. It is the story of a boy who is a little innocent orphan, the duplicate actor makes an appealing figure, bedazzled about by fate, he finds himself without a place to sleep or any thing to eat in the bustling city of New York. Followed from place to place and finding no sympathy or help anywhere, it is up to the little chap to take care of himself in the city of his tender age. And how he does it makes one of the most pictures of the year.

Next Thursday, the Lincoln will present "God's Country and the Law." It is a splendid romance story of the Northwest and a study of the work of a guilty conscience, thrilling in its portrayal.

"God's Country and the Law" will be presented at the Real this Sunday. It is the story of a boy who is a little innocent orphan, the duplicate actor makes an appealing figure, bedazzled about by fate, he finds himself without a place to sleep or any thing to eat in the bustling city of New York. Followed from place to place and finding no sympathy or help anywhere, it is up to the little chap to take care of himself in the city of his tender age. And how he does it makes one of the most pictures of the year.

Next Thursday, the Lincoln will present "God's Country and the Law." It is a splendid romance story of the Northwest and a study of the work of a guilty conscience, thrilling in its portrayal.

Such is the way of a woman.

LOOK THEM OVER CAREFULLY

We are interested in the long list of candidates who have filed for public office expressing their desire to "serve the people."

We are particularly interested in those who have filed for United States Senate. The man who aspires to that high office and expects the vote and support of the people, must be strong and courageous; a man of convictions, and a man of integrity.

The colored people of the State, aside from the general interest, will have a peculiar interest in the candidates for the Senate in that they will want to know how the candidate stands on the question of civil and political rights of the Negroes in this country. We will want to know what their convictions are with regard to the institution of lynch-law as applied to colored people in America.

The past records of those who aspire for this office should be thoroughly and impartially looked into, to ascertain what has been done or said by them which would have a bearing on the case.

The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People will doubtless make inquiries and investigations, and report to the people.

USING THE NEGRO TO HIDE CRIME

A fourteen year old Miss at Louisville, Kentucky a short while ago instigated the use of the colored man as a tool of attacking her, in order to hide her own crime. The practice is so common among a certain class of white people, until the mere youth finds it convenient and profitable to hide their misdeeds by falsely accusing a Negro.

The young Miss above referred to wanted to be a "flapper," therefore, wanted her long hair reduced to the "bobbed" style. After making a bad job of it without the knowledge or consent of her parents, the "Negro" story instantly came to her mind. She reasoned, that since she had no money to go to a hairdresser, she would have her hair cut by a Negro. She thought that race prejudice is stronger than reason. She thought it would be pretty easy for the police to find some Negro who would fit the description she gave. As to the results or what would become of the accused, she did not care.

Many, who have long been using the adopted similar methods, to hide, not only their own deeds, but the deeds of their lover or sweetheart. Many have paid with their life with a rope around his neck, for the misdeeds of white men and women. Surely it is getting time for an investigation to be made into some of these false alarms.

LOCAL BRANCH N. A. A. C. P.

With the recent killing of two Negroes and shooting of a third who was a customer in a drug store, all of which seemed unwarranted, the local branch, National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, are sending out their hands.

This is proper work of the Association, and the people are ready to back the Association with dollars and numbers, when that body takes the lead in these things affecting the race.

Merely maintaining an organization does not justify its existence when the real work of the organization is being neglected.

WANT A NEW CONSTITUTION

In as much as the people of Missouri want a new constitution, let us insist on a new one from top to bottom.

The bill did not call for an "amended constitution," but a new one. We do not want a "patched" document.

Any attempt on the part of the builders to "short-cut" their work, will be considered nothing less than neglect of duty by the people of the State.

TRIBUNE BACK AGAIN

After a lapse of nearly nine months, the St. Louis Tribune is being published again by the Puskin Publishing Co.

According to their official statement, the officers and directors represent quite an array of talent. They intend to be able to develop a strong spokesman for the race. If given the proper encouragement.

It is the good pleasure of the Argus to welcome the Tribune again into this virgin field of journalism. The field is broad, and much work to be done.

We herewith reproduce a statement of the Tribune that the readers of the Argus may see and appreciate the favorable conditions under which it is being published at this time.
